IRISH UNITY, NOT STATUS IS CRUX OF CONFERENCE

Adjournment Gives Rise To Crop Of Rumors All Unwarranted

GROUND CLEARED

Preliminaries Deemed Disposed Of And Agenda Drawn

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 18.—The announcement yesterday evening of the postponement of the Irish Conference sine die has given rise to a crop of rumors to the effect that irreconcilable differences have eventuated making the breaking of the conference imminent.

It is generally agreed, however, that the inference is entirely unwarranted and the conference will probably resume at a very early date. The present position appears to be that the ground has been cleared of the preliminaries, the scenes have been set for the main discussions and some form of agenda has been drawn up.

It is stated in well informed circles that the kernel of the debates is not the status but the unity of Ireland and until the latter question is disposed of little advance can be made regarding the details of the proposed new Government of Ireland. Special significance, therefore, attaches to the unyielding pronouncement of Sir James Craig, cabled earlier.

It is not doubted that the postponement of the conference is entirely due to the preoccupations of Mr. Lloyd George, whose momentous utterance on unemployment, previously expected immediately the House of Commons met today, is now postponed, the official explanation being that owing to the procedure of the House the proposed bills dealing with unemployment cannot be introduced until October 19. It is unofficially asserted, however, that it is due to differences of opinion amongst the experts in working out the export credits scheme.

It is expected that the Irish Conference will resume on October 20. The Sinn Fein delegates today conferred with Mr. Churchill at the Colonial Office.

RAIL STRIKE IS EFFORT TO BRING STATE OWNERSHIP

Washington Believes Men's Threat Is Attempt To Force Action

ALL MAY NOT GO

Some Road's Staffs Do Not Approve Order Of The Union

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 19.—According to advices from Washington it is asserted there that the real purpose of the threatened railway strike is to force the Government to adopt State ownership of railways. It is believed that the men desire to return to the conditions existing during the war when the Government controlled transportation.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Telegrams have been despatched summoning the heads of the four railway brotherhoods and the switchmen's union to confer with the Railway Labor Board in an endeavour to avert the strike.

'RATE CUT IMPOSSIBLE'

New York, Oct. 18.—The Presidents of the railroads with headquarters at Chicago assert that the proposal to translate the recently ordered reduction of wages into an immediate reduction in freights in order to aver the strike is impossible as it would again place the railroads in a precarious position financially.

On the other hand Mr. Stone, the President of the powerful brotherhood of locomotive engineers, asserts that the Government can prevent the strike by taking over the railroads, "which will eventually happen."

FAIL TO APPROVE

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Cleveland, Oct. 18.—Mr. Stone states that some of the unions in the fourth railroad group will not be affected by the strike call because less than two-thirds of the members have voted in favor of the strike, but they will probably strike with the others.

U. S. TREATIES WITH CENTRAL POWERS PASS THE SENATE

Amendments Are Killed And America Again Is At Peace

(Reuter's Service)

Before the final vote was taken, the Democrats endeavored to substitute the Treaty of Versailles with twelve of Senator Lodge's reservations for the German Peace Treaty, but this was defeated, and the reservations of the Foreign Relations Committee prohibiting American membership of the Allied Reparations Council or any other international committee without the consent of Congress was adopted.

RATIFIED BY SENATE

Washington, Oct. 18.—The Senate has ratified the German Peace Treaty.

Immediately after the ratification of the German Peace Treaty, the Senate ratified the Treaty with Austria.

SCHOOL FUND SCORES BIG GAIN; NEARS 90,000 MARK

407 Have Raised More Than Half; 1,200 Yet To Subscribe

The fund for the American School is nearing the Taels 100,000 mark. Subscriptions totaling taels 89,047 were reported when the books closed last night, and workers in the campaign feel assured that the original goal of taels 150,000 will be reached, if not surpassed.

Interest today centers in the outcome of the Treasure Hunt which is being conducted by THE EVENING STAR in connection with the campaign. The "zero hour" in the hunt comes at 5 o'clock this afternoon, when the boy or girl who has staked a claim nearest the spot where the check for $100 donated by THE EVENING STAR is buried, will be awarded the check.

The check was buried by Principal W. W. Bartlett of the American School in a Chinese garden within one quarter of a mile of the new grounds of the school. At 5 o'clock it will be excavated from its hiding place. All of the scores of boy and girl contestants are expected to be present.

Total subscriptions in the campaign yesterday were from 407 persons. The remainder of the 1,200 Americans in Shanghai are to be solicited by members of the drive committee by Saturday noon. Among the subscriptions announced by the various team captains during the day were the following:

	Tls.
Nanyang Brothers	1,000
Pacific Mail	1,000
National Dye Company	500
Central Garage	M.$ 500
	Tls.
International Savings Society	250
Liddell Brothers	250
C. P. Holcomb	300
Dr. N. L. Downs	200
Sir Ellis Kadoorie	200

It was announced that movies of the schools activities will be shown at the Olympic and Victoria Theaters beginning tonight. The films were made by Dr. W. W. Peter.

Representatives of the Standard Oil Company from various cities in China, here for a conference, subscribed $2,500, Mr. L. E. Graham, captain of one of the teams, announced. Mr. Graham's team has collected $6,500 from 50 individuals.

Mr. H. S. Honigsberg of the team led by Mr. A. R. Hager has wired to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce delegation touring the Orient asking for a group contribution. The message was sent to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company liner Empire State, due at Yokohama yesterday.

At yesterday's tiffin Dr. Luther Freeman delivered a short address and Miss Mary Lowrie, assistant principal of the school, spoke of the difficulties under which the faculty worked and the students lived. She took occasion to laud the management of the school, Principal W. W. Bartlett and the spirit of the student body.

The Cathedral School "lightning conductors"—twenty of them—set out on the search for the EVENING STAR buried treasure yesterday afternoon. The boys were all on bicycles and with the exception of one lad are all British youngsters. They claim they have it on the American youngsters in staking out claims for the treasure.

All That Worries Chinese Bird Is Living In Cage

By Elsie McCormick

In cut the shadowy tribunals of another world get too inquisitive about our record and decide to promote us backward for the next incarnation, we are going to ask to be a pet bird in China.

The society parasites described by Mr. Robert Chambers and the Appeal to Reason are in comparison the busiest little bees that ever broke up a picnic. If any creature ever led a more pampered life than a Chinese pet bird, it must have died of over-indulgence before the world at large had a chance to make its acquaintance.

For some obscure racial reason, Chinese have no fondness for pets except in cages. Anyone who knows Chinese cities is acquainted with the dreary procession of half-scalded dogs that nose hopelessly through the streets, apparently nursing the very correct impression that the world's hand is against them. A Chinese gentleman would be as likely to go for a walk with a dog as a foreigner would of leading out an obese porker. Cats in China are mostly unpettable beasts of extreme pessimistic tendencies and a hoarse voice that combines the soothing qualities of an applied file with an auctioneer suffering from sore throat.

CAGE MAKES IT PET

Put the pet in a cage, however, and the entire scene changes. While the household dog mopes around the coolie quarters, the family bird and its ivory-trimmed cage accompanies the master on a stroll to the tea-gardens, where it is hung up in a tree to exchange points on singing with the feathered coloratura sopranos of the neighborhood.

Every gentleman owning two or more birds has a bird coolie to catch grasshoppers for them, take them out for air, and carry them off for their singing-lesson in case the master is otherwise occupied. Cages are decorated with bits of carving or pieces of less expensive jade, and they are always discreetly curtained at back and sides to provide the bird with a fitting amount of privacy. Birds are occasionally taken out with a string tied to a foot, permitting the owner to reel his pet in like a trout when it exhibits any tendency toward undue skittishness.

If you've ever passed the Race Course between the fag-end hours of five and seven o'clock in the morning, you've undoubtedly noticed the hundreds of bird cages that usually line the [illegible] of them are chaperoned by a coolie or a small boy of the family; others are apparently without duennas of any description, but all of them are being fresh aired with a fidelity that is never applied to Chinese babies.

LET BIRD PICK ITS TUNE

A bird on the way to its singing lesson is unaccompanied by a music-roll, but in case it goes to a professional teacher, its master has a bill to meet on the first of the month, just like the iceman whose daughter is learning to sing "Mother Machree" at fifty cents a lesson. Owners of birds that are exceptionally fine singers often charge a fee for the privilege of parking other cages near the prima donna. In the Native City a small sum is asked of those who hang cages

GERMANY NOW IS BANKRUPT, SAYS LLOYD'S REPORT

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 18.—Lloyd's Bank monthly report reviews Germany's financial condition and draws the conclusion that in spite of a measure of misleading prosperity in certain fields, Germany has long been bankrupt and the conversion of the mark into foreign bills and industrial shares merely proves that the public at least appreciates the fact.

The report points out that German bankruptcy means that she will default sooner or later with her reparations obligations.

Germany's Best Ally Economic Situation Is Prussian's View

Berlin, Oct. 19.—A naive assertion was made in a speech at Essen by the Prussian Premier who expressed the opinion that the present economic situation was Germany's best ally, as it was compelling England to pay more in unemployment doles than she obtained from Germany as reparations. He thought the fact should be utilised by the German Government.

LLOYD GEORGE TELLS PLANS

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 18.—The House of Commons was crowded today when Parliament resumed. Replying to Mr. Asquith's request for a statement regarding the Washington Conference, Mr. Lloyd George confirmed the names of the British Empire delegation, already cabled, and said that he himself hoped to go immediately the parliamentary and general situation permitted.

Sir Auckland Geddes would be the delegate in his absence. General Smuts had decided to leave the interests of South Africa to the British representatives who were fully acquainted with his views at the Imperial Conference.

The Senior British naval expert, Admiral Earl Beatty, would be succeeded in due course by Admiral Chadwick. The principal military expert would be Lord Cavan, the air expert Air Marshal Higgins and the Secretary of the delegation Sir Maurice Hankey.

TRIBUTE TO BALFOUR

In the House of Lords today Lord Curzon, making an announcement similar to that of Mr. Lloyd George about the Washington Conference, paid a tribute to Mr. Balfour for his willingness to take up this public service in addition to his many public labors.

He said that no more fitting exponent of the British view could be found in view of his prestige at home and the almost unexampled influence he acquired in America on his visit during the war.

Lord Curzon said that he, as Foreign Secretary, would have liked to go to Washington but it was well nigh impossible in the present position of affairs for the Foreign Secretary to leave the country for any length of time and the Conference was not likely to be short.

He would have liked to attend the Conference because he was one of those who confidently hoped that the Conference would afford material for reaching an honorable and happy solution of the very difficult problems of the Far East and the Pacific.

Going Into Business Is Hazardous Stunt According to Zung

According to Zung Tseng-hung, 21-year-old aspirant to fortune, the launching of a business venture here in these days is fraught with all the hazards and hair-raising which Mr. Gaboriau introduced with such telling effect in some of his tales of romantic financial skullduggery.

Zung appeared as a complainant in the Mixed Court yesterday and, after stating that he is by way of being a cotton merchant, went on to tell of how he had entered into a compact with the defendant, one Zee Moo-sung, to form a cotton spinning concern. He alleges that he established a Tls. 2,000 credit for Zee to start the scheme on, but that after the money had been assimilated by the undertaking, the venture went crashing on the reef. Whereupon there were suggestions on the part of the defendant to wind things up and debit experience Tls. 2,000 worth, Zung demurred. And thus on October 13 Zee, so the charge sets forth, called at the home of Zung and invited the latter to come to his house, bringing with him all documents, notes, etcetera, concerning the cotton company in order that equitable settlement might be made.

Zung went, so he declared, and when he entered Zee's place on North Shanse Road he was surrounded by five men, taken to an upstairs room, relieved of all his documents, threatened with a dagger when he remonstrated and was forced to sign certain papers extremely damaging to his financial claims against the company. He was then locked up and kept prisoner until 2 p.m. the following day.

Zee makes sweeping denial of Zung's charges and the case was remanded one week for the production of further evidence.

Hotel Man Freed In Latest Angle of Pohlman Case

A. Formaninto, a Greek, owner of a lodging house, was discharged in the Mixed Court yesterday after being charged with having received stolen property.

It was alleged that Formaninto received a wallet which was stolen from J. Yesevitch on the South Manchurian wharf recently, and which contained the draft for £93 which Vera Pohlman tried to cash at the Lloyd Triestino offices. Mrs. Pohlman was discharged when brought up in the American Court.

At the hearing yesterday Yesevitch and his son testified that Formaninto had met them at the wharf, and upon learning that the elder Yesevitch had lost his wallet said he knew who had stolen it, and where it could be recovered.

The following day, they testified, the son went with Formaninto to the Chinese Post Office, and received the package containing the wallet. Formaninto received $20 for his services.

Deputy Commissioner Smith of the Chinese Post Office testified that Formaninto and the younger Yesevitch had come to the post office, and that Formaninto had asked for a letter that had been mailed to "the Chinese post office" and had the initials "A.F." in one corner.

British Assessor Hutchinson, in dismissing the charge, said that there were unquestionably many strange circumstances connected with the case, but that there was no proof that Formaninto had received the stolen property.

Dr. E. O. Fischer appeared for the defense.

Smiles from the Mixed Court

Tsau Fok-kaung, who is betimes a painter, is possessed of impressionistic tendencies which would gain him unlimited acclaim in the rallying places dedicated to the Quartier Latin or the purlieu thereof known as Greenwich Village. Being situate in the East, Tsau effervesces at a disadvantage. As will herein be explained.

On Tuesday afternoon at about 5:45 p.m. Tsau meandered into the H. S. Honigsberg garage, cast a discriminating glance about the place, walked over to a four-ton truck, manipulated the crank, stepped aboard and shortly thereafter began to create comment in the district contiguous to Rubicon Road. Residents thereabouts are doubtless still debating over the significance of the obviously intoxicated dragon which went roaring through the countryside in a mad effort to avoid the public highway.

Shortly before 7 o'clock Mr. L. R. Ferroggiaro, of the Honigsberg staff, observed and recognised the truck doing a mazurka, with modern interpolations, along Carter Road, while pedestrians provided a tree-climbing distraction. Following dizzily in the wake of the machine as far as Medhurst Road he found it stalled, with Tsau jerking at the levers in an injured sort of way. He recognised the pilot as one who had done several painting jobs for the firm and questioned him regarding the gyrations just accomplished.

Tsau was inclined to regard the feat as a trivial matter. He proffered the following ambiguity for Mr. Ferroggiaro to con over:

"I was going to get some food and I didn't want to get my feet wet."

Mr. Ferroggiaro took Tsau and his remark and had them both registered at the Bubbling Well police station.

Yesterday in the Mixed Court a brother of Tsau's appeared and stated that Fok-kaung, to the best of his belief, was a bit shy in his mental equipment and offered to take him back to the family in Ningpo if the Court would lift the blockade. So pedestrians in the Western District may pedestriate once more without wearing climbing spikes.

VIEWPOINTS

The shopkeeper who saw Van Yi-tsang tucking a roll of satin underneath his gown immediately conceived the notion that Van meant to steal the stuff and called a policeman.

This interpretation of his action Van declared to be entirely erroneous. He was in need of a new waistcoat, he told the Magistrate, always affected one pattern for these garments and was only matching the two pieces of goods.

The Court evidently got the same impression that the shopkeeper did and Van will be three months behind the fashions when sartorial matters are of interest to him again.

in the trees by the Willow Tea House. Owners who have not selected special teachers merely set their warbler in the midst of other trillers and trust to its judgment to pick good singing from bad.

This system, it seems to us, could be applied with considerable success to foreign households. If all young ladies in-town with vocal ambitions could be set down in the race-course between the hours of 5:00 and 7:00 a.m., each one to sing her own tune and copy whatever she pleased from the others, it would save her neighbors much profanity and the family a large bill for vocal culture.

Bird Street in the Native City is the Times Square of the feathered community. Birds of every shape except rectangular and of every size from an unshelled peanut to the papier mache eagles at Fourth of July celebrations chirp, twitter, squawk, and trill through the length of the throughfare. It is also on Bird Street that one finds the bird doctors and the expert bird dieticians who take one look at a feathered customer and prescribe his diet down to the ultimate worm. At frequent intervals along the street are to be seen the venders of cocoons with a worm in residence that the caged gourmets find particularly toothsome, that is, if anything can be toothsome to a bird.

LARK LEADS THE BAND

The dean of Chinese ornithology is the so-called 'Hundred Spirits lark' from Mongolia. Another favorite bird is the 'spectacle thrush,' so called because of the black lines around its eyes which suggest the uniform of a Phi Beta Kappa. Though there are many natives breeds of "white swallows," known to the West as canaries, they were formerly imported in large numbers from Germany. The reputation of the owl for wisdom is not sustained in the East, the Chinese regarding it as a half-witted bird with dark tendencies toward cannibalism. Doves are considered lacking in will-power and completely under the claw of the feminine gender. It is the Chinese belief that the dove husband always sends his wife away from the nest when rain begins and takes care of the family while she keeps herself dry under eaves somewhere.

Zoologists state that there are only three species of night-hawks in China. With this statement we are compelled to disagree. We counted fully thirteen species at the Columbia Country Club Jinx alone.

TINGE BIRD WITH YELLOW

Buying birds from itinerant venders or from stalls in the Native City is somewhat like picking up genuine jade at the Thieves' Market. We have heard cases of neat little yellow canaries which, after being taken home, twittered in a peculiarly coarse manner, broke out in spots like gray measles, and finally proved to be one hundred percent sparrow under a coating of yellow paint.

There are several species of Chinese chickens that are almost as different from the common or garden-scratching variety as a hen is from an incubator. We are sorry to announce, however, that the hundred-year eggs are not laid by mummified chickens, as we had formerly supposed. But we were consoled somewhat by seeing the famous frizzy chickens with a coating of what appears to be curly wool and a reputation for fitting in artistically with the marcel-waved rocks of Chinese gardens.

One of the most popular varieties of native chicken is the stiff white type that sits rigidly aloft on the coffin at most Chinese funerals and serves as the steed on which the soul rides across running water in its journey to the Oriental Avalon.

ADVICE OF LANSING

Peking, Oct. 19.—Reports are current today that the Chinese Government last night received a telegram from Robert Lansing, former Secretary of State and now an advisor to the Chinese delegation to the Washington Conference, which read in substance:

"China must declare petty internal hostilities at an end and effect national unity if China is to except a favorable settlement of the Shantung and other questions at the Disarmament Conference."

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Peking, October 19.—General Tsao Kun has placed Chao Yu-ho at Techow to control the Tientsin Pukow Railway and Wang Shengping at Chenchow and Loyang to control the Peking-Hankow Railway. It is said that the purpose of this is to support General Wu Pei-fu from the North and to prevent the Fengtien troops from coming south.

Chang Tso-lin has, therefore, sent representatives to "negotiate" with Wang Sheng-ping. Wu Pei-fu, being suspicious of Wang, has decided to make a trip to Loyang, and see Wang.

General Tsao Kun has asked Tuchun Chi Shih-yuan of Kiangsu whether or not it is possible for him (Tsao) to send two divisions to Kiangsu as defense measures against the Southern attack. Chi has replied saying that the people of Kiangsu have asked him to remain neutral in the conflict and that he does not feel like giving permission contrary to the wishes of the people. If Tsao will test the Kiangsu people and gain their approval Chi will be glad to welcome Tsao's two divisions.

Peking, Oct. 19.—General Chang Tso-ling has applied to the Government for permission to transfer his army to the South as a defense against the Cantonese attack. He states that his aim is to bring about unity in China.

Adrienne Lachamp

Adrienne Lachamp, classical pantomime dancer who is to appear at the Lyceum tomorrow and Saturday nights, has been rehearsing at the Town Hall where she has completely won the hearts of the Municipal Orchestra. At the conclusion of one of her numbers in rehearsal the musicians rose as one man in acclamation. Mr. Paci himself has been assisting at the rehearsals. The following tribute to Mlle. Lachamp's artistry is given by one of the spectators at the rehearsal:

"Every movement is a picture, each more beautiful than the last, until one is left breathless at the wonder of it. Adrienne Lachamp is an artist with a soul, she lives each of her portrayals, she gives herself unstintingly and carries her audience with her. In Greig's Papillon you watch a butterfly flit from flower to flower—light, graceful, altogether delightful. In Gounod's Ave Maria, which by the way is danced to an organ accompaniment, one is lifted out of this mundane sphere to a plane of pure beauty, her expression as she dances this is superb. In the Tales from Andersen—Chaikowsky—The Heartless Princess is all that her name implys, vain, ruthless, without a thought except for herself. In Chopin's Valse, op. 34, No. 2, the dainty little flower girl offers her posies and who could help buying? Then in Greig's Asa's Death all the tragedy, the abject fear of death is depicted so wonderfully that you suffer with the dying."

Russia's Own Survey Says 18 Millions Are Starving

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow (by mail), Sept. 15.—The following is the full text of a circular note addressed by the Commissar of Foreign Affairs to all governments with the request to make this information public for the benefit of their respective people:

"The world movement of relief for the famine-stricken population of the eastern provinces of European Russia is warmly welcomed by the Russian people and their Government of Workers and Peasants. At the same time, we must observe with regret that these bodies as well as the press, and even the governments, nearly everywhere display inadequate knowledge of the real state of affairs in Russia and have far from accurate and verified data on the extent of the calamity and its concrete details.

"The Western European and American press, and also the declarations of statesmen of all countries, frequently contain absolutely false or exaggerated and erroneous ideas regarding the situation in the famine-stricken provinces and even with respect to general conditions in the Russian Republic.

"The Russian Government deems it necessary, therefore, to request the governments of all countries to impart in an official manner to their citizens interested in the famine which has befallen Russia the following precise data on that subject:,

TEN PROVINCES STARVING

"The Famine Relief Commission of the All-Russian Central Executive Committee has recognised a state of distress in ten provinces, namely, Astrakhan, Tsaritsin, Saratov, the German Commune (on the Volga), Samara, Simbirsk, in the Tartar Republic, Chuvash Territory, also in the districts of Birsk and Belebei in Ufa Province; the districts of Yaransk, Erzhum, Malmyzh and Soviusk in Viatka Province; and Sctunsk and Krasnokokshaisk in Mari Territory. The harvest in these ten provinces is either entirely destroyed by the severe and continuous drought or in places will yield only ten to fifteen percent of the average crops. In some localities of these provinces the bad harvest will affect only certain kinds of crops.

"These ten provinces are inhabited by approximately 18,000,000 persons, who will require from the outside 41,000,000 poods (660,000 tons) of food supplies, or 50 percent of the usual rations, to sustain the rural population, not counting fodder for cattle, and 18,000,000 poods (280,000 tons) to feed the urban population. In the localities where the harvest is completely lost, 15,000,000 poods (240,000 tons) of seeds are required before September 15.

"Lacking exact data on the extent of the harvest in all other parts of Russia, it cannot be determined at present what proportion of the above requirements can be furnished by Russia herself. The famine-stricken provinces have no grain stocks left over from past harvests, and grain deliveries from other provinces can only be extremely limited at present. The immediate distress in these provinces, therefore, is really very great.

NO DISORDERS AS YET

"Yet nowhere have there occurred any of the excesses and disorders falsely rumored in the Western European and American press. In some of the localities which have been hardest hit, the despairing population is seeking in part, with the assistance of the Soviet authorities, to move to more prosperous Russian provinces. This movement of the famished inhabitants, however, nowhere assumes any form which presents the slightest menace to public safety and order.

"The Russian Government is using every available measure to combat the calamity and relieve the sufferers. Russian citizens, irrespective of political views, are manifesting the most ardent deside to help the starving population without any political mental reservations. The Russian toiling masses everywhere show the fullest readiness for self-denial and are imposing privations upon themselves in order to send relief to their fellow citizens in distress. Also, those who before the Revolution belonged to the privileged classes are striving unselfishly to help the famine-stricken.

"In addition to the Government Famine Commission of the All-Russian Central Executive Committee, the Government has authorised the formation of an independent Famine Relief Committee composed of persons outside of Soviet Government spheres. This Committee will itself distribute all the food supplies at its disposal, being a completely independent organisation and enjoying the full support of the Soviet officials in its activities.

"The delegates of this Committee will shortly go abroad simultaneously with another delegation which is to be sent to Western Europe by the Central Executive Committee, the Central Trades Union Council and the Central Co-operative Union.

NEED IS URGENT

"The information which is received daily, of numerous organisations in all countries willing to help the famine-stricken population in Russia, is in accord with the wishes of the Russian people's Government and with the urgent need of the famine-stricken provinces for foreign aid. The Russian Government, addressing all governments upon this subject, permits itself to express the hope that the latter will present no obstacles to public bodies and individual citizens of their countries who desire to help the famine-stricken citizens of Russia.

"The Russian Government will accept for this purpose any aid, from any source whatever disregarding entirely any political relations. Expressing, on behalf of the Russian people, the warmest gratitude to these foreign organisations and individuals who have manifested such an ardent desire to help the Russian famine sufferers, the Russian Government believes itself entitled to hope that the governments of other countries will present no obstacles or barriers to such desires on the part of their citizens.

"Signed—The People's Commissar of Foreign Affairs, George Chicherin."

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or landanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D.,
Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS TALK ON THE BINET TEST

Advantages Of The System Explained At Mothers' Department Meeting

The Mothers' Department of the American Woman's Club held its first regular meeting yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, at the Carlton Cafe. The new chairman, Mrs. Van Buskirk, presided. Instead of having book reviews this year the department will take up current events. Each member is urged to read or tell something of interest about women and children. Mrs. Raven gave a word of encouragement and urged those present to extend the usefulness of the department by telling others of the meetings and bringing new members.

There was a good attendance and the explanation of the Binet tests was much enjoyed. Mrs. Hager said the Binet intelligence tests indicate that the intelligence of the individual is nearly 100 percent dependent upon heredity. These tests are very widely used in schools and colleges in America. They are not designed with the idea of discovering how much a child knows but are meant to throw some light on what the child is capable of learning, and the possibilities of future improvement in directing the child's education.

The tests consist of carefully graded problems, including mathematical and grammatical examples, problems in the use and choice of words, problems in drawing and memory tests of word or figure images. From the simplest test for a child of three or four to the most advanced, these tests are given in the form of interesting puzzles that grow constantly more confusing and intricate as one passes through successive age zones or groups.

All classes of intellect, the weakest as well as the strongest, will profit by the application of their talents to tasks which are suited to their special ability. When we have learned the lessons which intelligence tests have to teach we shall no longer blame mentally defective workmen for their industrial inefficiency nor punish weak minded children because of their inability to learn, neither shall we imprison and hang mentally defective criminals because they lacked the intelligence to appreciate the ordinary codes of social conduct. Mrs. Freyer then spoke on "How the tests are given," giving actual questions which are asked children of different ages in making the tests.

Much interest was aroused and it was moved and seconded that the chairman appoint a committee to look into the matter of having children tested.

The next meeting of the mothers' department will be on November 2

The charge against Sing was that of being in possession of dangerous weapons —a revolver and two daggers. He was arrested in a Kjukiang Road lodging house after the Chinese police had seized and questioned another man said to have been involved in the murder plot.

Council Supports Telephone Company Expansion Program

Will Underwrite Its Quota; Bring Up Tariff Revision Matter

The Municipal Council has decided to support the proposal of the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company to increase its capital from Tls. 1,000,000 to Tls. 2,000,000 and will underwrite on its own behalf the proportion of new shares proposed to be allocated under the scheme. Announcement of the Council's support is contained in today's Municipal Gazette, which also contains correspondence regarding revision of the Telephone Company's scale of charges.

A letter from the Council to the company directs attention to correspondence between the two in 1917 and 1918, when the municipal body suggested that it would be desirable in view of the continued development of the Settlement to amend its tariff, making the proposal that the company extend by one mile in each case the radius upon which the scale of charges is based. On the request of the management the matter was dropped for the time being owing to wartime conditions.

Thefts Of Tools From Contractors Reach Large Total

According to testimony given yesterday in the Mixed Court thefts of tools and building materials to the extent of Tls. 20,000 have been made in recent months from the one contracting firm of Trollope and Colls. This was set forth in the testimony of L. D. Kearney, a private detective employed by the contracting firm.

The case in which the testimony was brought out was that of Zung Yui-kung, a coolie, who was arrested on The Bund Tuesday night after he had walked out of the new Glen Line building carrying stolen tools. At the conclusion of the hearing the coolie was sentenced to one month in jail.

In the first round of play the Shanghai College defeated the National South Eastern University of Nanking in all five matches. In the semi-finals they won five straight over Soochow University, and yesterday concluded the tournament with an unbroken string of wins by taking five matches from the strong St, John's players.

The singles were played in the morning, and the doubles in the afternoon, all on the St. John's courts.

The scores were:

D. C. Feng, Shanghai beat Mung St. John's 2-6, 6-3, 6-1.

D. S. Feng, Shanghai beat Mo, St. John's 6-3, 6-0.

Chen, Shanghai beat Zung, St. John's; 6-3, 6-0.

D. C. Feng has not been defeated in any of the singles matches during the season, and his wins yesterday entitled him to the Bamsay Cup.

Am'n Football Manager Plans To Establish Game

Sports Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir.—The American football game should see its greatest year in China this year.

The assistance and help of every lover of the game is needed.

It should be placed on a solid foundation now. To do this about Mex. $2,500.00 is needed to properly equip and clothe the players, to get fixed quarters and to provide the best medical attention.

There should be little difficulty in getting this amount, if the American Club, Columbia Country Club, University Club, American Chamber of Commerce, American business houses and individuals would contribute.

Would suggest that this fund be controlled by the University Club, for there you have many old football enthusiasts and they could properly direct the promotion of the game.

Let everyone become interested and we will have our game as well established as the national game of our friendly country.

JACK KNOWLAN.

Shanghai, Oct. 19, 1921.

American football will be placed on a solid foundation this fall if Manager Jack Knowlan has his way. The above preceding letter explains how, and why.

Knowlan's plan will mean much for the game: the purchase of sufficient equipment for two elevens, the provision of quarters, and, equally important, the retaining of a staff of doctors, stretcher bearers, etc., for the injured.

His suggestion concerning the raising of a football fund, and its control by the University club will give football men some food for discussion besides rules and signals.

Knowlan writes separately that he is leaving about Nov. 1 for leave to the States, but that he will carry on as manager and do all possible to boost the winter game along up to the time he steps on the boat. The uniforms, which are in Mr. H. D. Rodger's care, he says, will be delivered wherever needed for the first workout.

It is expected that enough candidates for the two elevens hoped for this fall will turn out Saturday at 3 p.m. at the Baseball Field for the first practice of the season.

S.R.C. FOOTBALL SECTION MEETS AND ORGANISES

The Shanghai Recreation Club organised for the 1921 football season last evening at the annual meeting of the football section.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. E. E. Lever, president of the S. R. C. Last year's committee sat with him.

Officers for the year were elected as follows:

Secretary, Mr. E. J. Cook.
Captain, Mr. E. Mears.
Vice Captain, Mr. O. Soufolis.
Executive committeemen, Messrs. B. H. Smith and T. S. D. Wade.

The captain and Vice captain of the Recs eleven in the second division of the football league will be left for a sub committee to decide or elect later.

The meeting was attended by some fifty football enthusiasts. Both Mr. Lever, and Mr. J. L. Wade, a past football leader for the Recs spoke shortly advising the younger players as to how the game should be played, and speaking optimistically of the prospects for the season.

The Recs this year will be guided and represented on the field by younger, newer men. They expect to get their first practice match Saturday either with the Marine Engineers or with the Navy team represented by the Titania and attendant submarines.

Rugger League May Be Formed With Four Teams

Formation of a Rugby Football League with at least four teams entered will be discussed this afternoon at the meeting of the Rugby Football Club, set for 5:30 p.m. at the Shanghai Rowing Club.

The Club will enter a team and it is hoped that the S. V. C., the Navy and possibly one of the local hongs will be added. There has been no rugby league here since 1913.

Two interport matches are figured for the season, with Hankow coming here.

Shanghai Harriers Will Meet Tonight

The Shanghai Harriers Club will hold its annual meeting at the Rowing Club this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

A feature of the program will be the presentation of prizes to winners of last season's events. The trophies will be presented by Mr. W. W. Bartlett. Reports for the year will be presented and plans will be sketched for the coming season.

S. M. POLICE LOSE TO NAVY IN SNAPPY PRACTICE GAME; TO PLAY FUHTAN SATURDAY

Titania Men, All In Fine Football Condition Far Outclass The Untrained Police; Regulars Are Rounding Into Shape And Soon Will Play

The Shanghai Municipal Police Recreation football eleven went through its second practice match of the season yesterday afternoon in a game with the strong team off the submarines and mother-ship Titania, representing the British Navy. The final score was Navy 6, Police 0.

The Navy team, which has just concluded a series of games at Weihaiwei with other boats teams, and previously in the city league at Hongkong, far outclassed the Police in condition, training and team work. The win was easy.

The Police however benefited much from the match with several young men in the lineup and fast football coming to them every minute.

The Navy had the ball on the Police end of the field throughout the match. Their own goal was rarely threatened. Cameron, goal keeper for the S.M.P. by keen defensive work did much to keep the scoring down.

The teams played as follows:

Police.—Cameron g, A. J. Knight rb, Isaacs lb, G. E. Knight rh, Crowley ch, Munson lh, Doyle orf, Watson irf, McDonald cf, Hotchkiss olf, Ling olf.

Navy.—Yeoman g, Kerridge rb, Green lb, Riley rh, McGann ch, Hotchby lh, Garside orf, Hendry irf, Goodlet cf, Phillips ilf, Cooper olf.

At half time the score was at 3-0. Hendry scored two of the Navy's goals, Garside 1, and Goodlett 3.

The Navy team hopes to play the S.R.C. in the latter's opening match of the season Saturday afternoon, and the Police a return match Tuesday. The boats sail Wednesday.

The Police eleven plays Fuhtan college on the latter's grounds Saturday afternoon.

Premier Chin Finds Easy Way Out Of Difficulty

BY JOSEF W. HALL

Peking, Oct. 16.—There are several reasons why Chin Yun-peng finds it expedient to conduct the business of the premiership from his private home rather than the Cabinet buildings, and to keep a letter of resignation, as a protecting shield, constantly between himself and his office.

For one thing, his government gave certain assurances to the Japanese Minister that his further invitation to negotiate Kiaochow would be favorably considered. When the Japanese press the matter, it is saving of much embarrassment to both himself and Foreign Minister Yen to have their resignations in. Secondly, it is recognised by all concerned that now is the time to get out from under a government which only stands through force of habit and the absence of any incentive to knock it down. Thirdly, there is, of course, no money.

While Wu Pei-fu and Chang Tso-lin continue to spar for position, there is no incentive on the part of either to disrupt the government. On the other hand Cabinet officials are left in the difficult position of being without lead as to which general is to be chosen for master. Again, as soon as either one definitely gains the preponderance of influence, the entire personnel of the government will inevitably suffer change. There was never a time when high government office held out less attraction than now.

MAY BREAK DEADLOCK

Unless this situation of indeterminate balance be changed before Armistice Day, China's delegation at the Conference will remain without instructions as to policy. It now appears that Wu Pei-fu believes the time not far off when he can carry out his plans for the convocation of a National Assembly, as outlined by him to your correspondent before his departure for Hupeh last August. All parties are now looking toward this move as the one which is destined to break the present deadlock in Chinese politics. Tsao Kun seems to justify his existence by supporting Wu in his plans, and Chang Tso-lin, not willing as yet to make public his divergence, has rendered them lip service.

It is known that General Wu looks upon the Washington Conference as very important, and is desirous that policy and backing should be given to China's delegation either through the National Assembly scheme or otherwise. It is also known that Wu is prepared, in order to procure freedom from interference in his plans south of the Great Wall on the part of Chang Tso-lin, to grant Chang Tso-lin's hegemony north of the Wall. That is, he will not insist that his scheme of political reconstruction be carried into Manchuria and Mongolia, and if necessary, will consent to a different political status for these territories giving Chang a position which would amount to the viceroyship or kingship of an independent but allied territory. This compromise, Chang, if he be convinced of Wu's strength and determination, is likely to accept.

MANCHURIA BUFFER

The effect of a practical separation of the territory north of the Great Wall from the body politic of China proper upon the Manchurian question at the Washington Conference is a subject for interesting speculation. America is certain to demand a guarantee of "open door" in Manchuria. Would the Three Eastern Provinces tend to come under Japanese domination more rapidly under the separate kingship of Chang Tso-lin? Wu Pei-fu is of the opinion that Chang, confined to Manchuria, would have increased incentive to keep Japan out, and that the creation of a buffer state between China and Japan would, as long as it were ruled by persons of an ambitious and active character, tend to check Japanese aggression.

But this is an open question.

For as much as they love power and the throne, Chang Tso-lin and his type, we are tempted to believe, love money the more.

DISTRUSTS FINANCES

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, October 14.—Today's Cabinet barometer is low and variable. Contrary to previous reports in the vernacular and foreign press, Premier Chin is not satisfied with the Government's financial outlook, especially in regard to remittances to Peking from the provinces. The alleged promises of Generals Chang Tso-lin and Tsao Kun with regard to such remittances are stated on the best authority to be "much exaggerated."

The Premier is in any case disappointed with the financial situation and therefore as firm as ever in his intention to abide by his resignation. He has not attended the meetings of the Cabinet, nor did he pay his respects to the President on the occasion of that official's birthday, as was stated in the vernacular. Being still on leave of absence the Premier sent the Chief Secretary of the Cabinet, Mr. Kuo Che-yun, to congratulate the President in his behalf.

Admiral Tu Hsi-kuei, Commander of the Northern Gunboat Patrol on the Yangtze River, who has been with Wu-Pei-fu in his Hunan and Ichang campaigns, arrived here last night and today called upon the Premier to report conditions in the Yangtze Valley. He at the same time urged the Premier in behalf of Wu Pei-fu to remain in office, according to the best information, stating that a change of government at this time would result in serious consequences for the whole country.

This argument of Admiral Tu was supported by General Chai Yu-ko, the personal representative of Marshal Tsao Kun, but the Premier is still determined to give some one else a chance to carry on the Government for a while.

If Chin goes Pan Fu, Acting Minister of Finance, will leave with him, as Chin appears to be the only member of the Cabinet who is friendly to Pan. The status of the rest of the Cabinet in the event of Chin's definite resignation is in doubt, but it is not thought likely that there will be sweeping changes at this time. There is, further more, always the possibility that means can be found to retain Premier Chin, and with him the whole present Cabinet, in office.

CHIN STILL ON LEAVE

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Peking, October 19.—Sir Francis Aglen, Inspector General of Customs and Director General of the Revenue Department, noticing that there are many unnecessary governmental expenditures, has opposed the proposal to continue the collection of special surtaxes. Premier Chin, because of this, has refused to cancel his leave of absence.

PREMIER TO RESUME

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 18.—No quorum was present for today's meeting of the cabinet, but Premier Chin announced his intention to resume the premiership Thursday. The success of Pan-fu in negotiating several small loans has temporarily given further life to the present government.

Effort Being Made To Get Early Ruling On SemenovMatter

Efforts are being made by counsel and friends of Mrs. Alexandra Nahaboff to get the Consular Body to take immediate action upon the question of jurisdiction of the Mixed Court as applicable to the case of Ataman Semenov, Cossack chieftain against whom Mrs. Nahaboff has filed a complaint alleging barbarous treatment and kidnapping and asking Tls. 500,000 damages.

It is understood that the Senior Consul, to whom the matter was referred by Assessor Blackburn, has indicated his belief that the Mixed Court has no jurisdiction in a case of this sort.

In the event that jurisdiction is assumed, it is stated that local Chinese officials will take steps to prevent Ataman Semenov's departure from Shanghai. The Ataman intends to leave Shanghai as soon as he has secured the necessary visas to his passports.

Cruising Motor Yacht Coming Here

The Speejack, a trim 98-foot cruising motor yacht, will soon visit Shanghai, while on a cruise of the world, according to word just received here.

The Speejack left New York last month and headed south for Panama, carrying Albert Y. Gowan of Cleveland, Ohio, and a small "expedition" of amateur scientists.

This will be the first motor boat, it is said, to circle the globe if it is successful.

It was built especially for this cruise.

It is elaborately fitted with scientific devices, including two 250 horsepower Wintoh engines, operated by gasoline or kerosene, generating a speed of 13 knots, with a cruising radius of 3,000 miles, hot water furnaces for cold weather, forced ventilation below decks for the tropics and wireless telegraph and telephone with a working radius of 1,500 miles.

The expedition is for pleasure, study and the bringing back of pictures and natural history objects for the Field Museum and American Museum of Natural History. Mr. Gowan is vice-president of the Lehigh Portland Cement company, a graduate of Harvard, '07, and has been a yachtsman all his life.

B. F. Rogers, Jr., Chicago insurance man, photographer and taxidermist, will have charge of skins, skeletons, etc., and Ira J. Ingram will be the camera man. Mrs. Gowan, who has written some short stories, will keep a daily log and send back stories for publication.

The exact date of the arrival of the Speejack in Shanghai is still indefinite.

Bring Many Topics Up For Discussion At Meeting Of Chambers

Fifty-two representatives attended the eighth session of the National Union of Chambers of Commerce, over which the Chairman, Mr. C. C. Nieh, presided. The following suggestions was discussed and will be dealt with at the meeting to be held this morning.

(1) The organisation of a national volunteer corps; (2) the transfer into citizens' hands of the authority over policemen; (3) increase of the number of commercial attaches in foreign countries; (4) the despatching of delegates to attend the International Union of Chambers of Commerce to be held at New York; (5) the protection of registered trade marks; (6) revision of the laws regarding registry of companies; (7) the election of consul-generals to foreign countries by the people and the more frequent transmission of commercial reports to all Chambers of Commerce; (8) the request from the government for increase of representatives at the Congress and the provincial assemblies; (9) the suspension of all lotteries; (10) the abolition of custom's barriers near the city of Kashing; (11) the management of municipalities by the business men; (12) the abolishing of banknotes issued by foreign banks in China, and (13) the unification of China's Wine and Tobacco Tax.

The session will be continued this afternoon.

Bodies In Conference Here Blame Japan For China's Ills

A bitter denunciation of Japan, which country is blamed for most of China's present ills, and a stand for the "open door" policy, are outstanding features in the proclamation issued by the joint conference of National Associated Chambers of Commerce and the Associated Educational Associations, now in session here.

The conference of Chambers has drawn over 100 representatives from thirteen provinces, while some thirty-odd representatives of Educational associations from various parts of the country are included in the joint meetings. Following is the text of the proclamation issued by them following discussion of what China's attitude should be with regard to the impending Pacific Conference at Washington:

Ever since the conclusion of the European War, the attention of the world has been focused upon the Pacific. It is a matter of universal disappointment that the Versailles Conference has not only failed miserably to insure the peace of the East in any measure, but has been the chief agency in creating many perplexing and war-provoking problems which exist today in the East.

CHINA VITAL FACTOR

Realising fully that the peace of the world in the future is chiefly, if not solely, dependent upon the peace of the East, President Harding of the United States has deemed it imperative to invite the Powers to a conference to be held in Washington to discuss the question of universal disarmament and the problems vitally concerning the Pacific. Mr. Harding's noble undertaking can meet with no readier response nor heartier support from any people than from us Chinese whose outstanding racial characteristic is our love for peace. So one who is at all familiar with the Far East will deny that China, with her immense population and her well-nigh inexhaustible resources occupies a place of paramount importance in the Pacific Basin. Indeed, it is no exaggeration to say that the interests of China are the interests of the Pacific; if sovereignty and integrity are guaranteed to China, we shall have little fear that the peace of the Pacific will fail to be a reality.

CHINA'S PEOPLE UNITED

The Republican Government has been established in China for almost a decade, but the tenacious influences of the centuries of despotism and conservatism and the interventions and aggressions of foreign militaristic powers have made progress along constructive lines an impossibility. It is true that these republican years have been years of continuous strife among various political factions; but let no one overlook the fact that the people of the provinces are one. This national oneness of the people is amply proved by the joint conference of the National Associated Chambers of Commerce and Associated Educational Associations.

While all the Western world was busily engaged in its life-and-death struggle, Japan lost no time in realising her policy of exploitation upon China, and the presentation of the notorious twenty-one demands was the result. All forces were marshalled together to compel China to recognise her rights in Manchuria, Mongolia and Shantung. This outrage on the part of Japan greatly aroused the deep indignation of the people of the country. Seeing that "the demands" were never approved by the National Assembly, they rose up like one man to oppose with all their power. While unsuccessful in peaceful negotiations with their authorities they have not infrequently resorted to arms, which has unfortunately involved the country in a succession of civil wars, to the incalculable loss of lives and property.

JAPAN TO BLAME

The present political chaos of the country, as can be readily seen, has been brought about chiefly by the pernicious "twenty-one demands." We, the Chinese people, have suffered so unexpressably much that we wish to present our case before the friendly powers. However, we ask for no pity nor help; we plead simply and merely for fair play and justice, and particularly at a time when we are making our supreme effort to put our house in order. It is more truism to say that a maltreated and outraged China will be no guarantee for the peace of the nations of the Pacific nor for the nations of the world.

The following are the resolutions passed by the joint conference in regard to China's stand at the Pacific Conference:

(1) Be it resolved: That according to the principle of equality of nations, we, the people of the Chinese Republic, will not look upon as valid any treaty or treaties entered into with foreign powers which violate that principle in endangering the peace of China or the peace of the Far East. Likewise, we will look upon as invalid any agreements or notes, entered into between the powers, to which China was not participant or to which China gave no consent.

NO SPHERES OF INFLUENCE

(2) That we, the Chinese people, will allow no power or powers, under the pretext of propinquity or of certain special relationships, exercise the right of "sphere of influence" or "special interests" in any aspect.

(3) That in the light of the above two principles, we, the people of the Chinese Republic, maintain that:

(a) The twenty-one demands presented by the Government of Japan and all the rights and privileges which she took from China by force in Manchuria, Mongolia and Shantung become automatically annulled, and that Japan's promise of unconditional restoration of Tsingtao to China should be carried out in the immediate future.

(b) Tariff autonomy should be restored to China, so that she may, together with other powers enjoy the right of equality of nations and of freedom of trade.

(4) That being in full sympathy with the principle of international disarmament, we, the people of the Chinese Republic, are to employ all that is within our power to influence our authorities to reduce the army to the minimum and strive in every way possible to develop our country along constructive lines.

STAND FOR "OPEN DOOR"

(5) That we, the people of the Chinese Republic, are to exert our utmost influence upon our authorities to bring about at the earliest moment possible the reform of the financial system and the abolition of likin so that on the one hand our farmers, artisans and merchants may enjoy freedom of development, and on the other a definite reliable source of income may be insured for the payment of foreign debts.

(6) That we, the people of the Chinese Republic, in order to extend courtesies and privileges to all nations alike, stand for the "Open Door Policy;" and in the execution of that policy, the general conditions of the country ought to be particularly taken into consideration. It is earnestly hoped that the friendly powers will soon modify the treaties made with China which have hampered the free execution of that policy.

FREITAS LEAVING TO INVESTIGATE MACAO SITUATION

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 15.— M. Batalha de Frietas, Portuguese Minister to China and Dean of the Diplomatic Corps, expects to leave here for Macao on the 19th or 20th of this month to consult with the Governor of Macao regarding the situation there and report on his findings to the Portuguese Foreign Office.

In connection with M. de Freitas' journey it is understood that the Portuguese Government has for some time wished him to proceed to Macao for a conference with the local Governor designed to hasten a settlement of the issues now outstanding between the Macao authorities and the Canton Government.

It is, furthermore, believed here that Portugal was invited to send delegates to the Pacific Conference largely in view of her holdings at Macao and that consequently the Portuguese Foreign Office desires from its Minister at Peking first hand information on the Macao problem so as to enable it to formulate its policy at Washington.

Today's issue of the Shuntien Shih Pao—and several other vernacular papers—carries the following report on the Macao question:

"Reports in yesterday's vernacular press to the effect that the Portuguese Minister reached Hongkong on the 11th en route to Macao to investigate the recent Sino-Portuguese incident are found to be groundless, as it was only day before yesterday that the Minister was seen by a foreign correspondent at the Portuguese Legation.

"According to trustworthy information the present trouble at Macao has been created by the Canton Government solely with a view to getting the Portuguese Minister to go to Macao and Canton thus increasing the prestige of Dr. Sun Yat-sen and his Government in the eyes of the Chinese people, who know very well that M. de Freitas is the Dean of the Diplomatic Corps.

"Knowing this, M. de Freitas has so far been unwilling to proceed to the South, although his home Government has frequently suggested that he do so. He is, however, said to believe that an amicable settlement of the incident can be reached by negotiation with the government authorities at Peking."

CHITA ACCUSES FRANCE OF PLOT AGAINST SOVIET

(Delta News Agency)

Chita, Oct. 15.—From authoritative sources it is learned that the transfer of a part of Wrangel's army to Vladivostok is being carried out according to the desire of France to have an organised force in readiness for an attack upon Soviet Russia at an opportune moment.

The French Government is said to be negotiating with the Japanese for a joint execution of their aggressive plans against Soviet Russia.

ONLY DEADLOCK LOOMS

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, Oct. 13.—The representative of the Far Eastern Republic, Mr. Petroff, in an interview with a correspondent at Dairen, on October 11, declared that while he had not as yet received any instructions from his government on the seventeen counter proposals of the Japanese and while he could make no statement upon them, it was evident that if both sides persisted in maintaining their present positions there could be no outcome save a dead-lock. It must be presented that the positions referred to are on the old question of the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Siberia.

The failure to receive instructions from Chita was possibly due to the fact that it was so difficult to get messages through from Dairen, Mr. Petroff said this difficulty had been responsible for much trouble already the telegrams being sometimes so badly mutilated that it was impossible to decipher them, and sometimes they were stolen by the Chinese authorities, who, Mr. Petroff said, were doing all they could to interfere with the conference at Dairen. Both China and America, Mr. Petroff said were making things as difficult as possible.

He has no intention of releiving Dairen Mr. Petroff said; it is true that there have been negotiations over the possibility of removing the conference to Chita, so that the delays and misunderstandings arising from the bad telegraph communications might be eliminated, but that is a matter entirely up to the other party in the conference, and if Japan did not want the conference at Chita, some other place mutually convenient would be satisfactory.

While he was not in a position to say what would be done by the conference, not having heard from his government, the Chita representative said that as long as the two parties held to their present positions, and successful outcome of the conference was impossible, and in the event of the negotiations proving unsuccessful it would be necessary to bring the matter up at the Pacific Conference in some form or other.

Mr. Petroff said also that while the Chita Government was completely independent of Moscow, they were none the less a part of the whole, that all were Russian, and that they were obliged to co-operate to the best of their ability.

Head Vaccination Protest

Mrs. Sydney King & Mrs. Norman Merriman.

TWO hundred and twenty of the 226 American citizens who arrived in New York recently on the French steamship Rochambeau were "fit to be tied!" These passengers were angry because they had been vaccinated by French doctors at Havre, on orders issued by the United States Public Health Service. They were especially indignant because they had discovered for the first time in their lives that there is second-class small-pox, a malady that is never suspected in first-class passengers, who, consequently, are never vaccinated. Mrs. Sydney Scott King of Dayton, Ohio, and Mrs. Norman Merriman, of Brooklyn, N.Y., said they intend to bring the matter up before official Washington, declaring that the French doctors seemed to have no idea of sanitation.

Am'n. Sales Methods Blend With English In Far East

Representative Of London House Tells Of Adoption Of New Methods In Presenting Prod ucts To Importers

Tokio, Oct. 12.—A blending of the salesmanship methods of two countries, the United States and Great Britain, through the work in the Oriental export field, is reported by Mr. John Mordey, representative of Spalding and Hodge, Ltd., of London, one of the largest British paper houses. Mr. Mordey, who is at the Imperial Hotel, Tokio is making his first trip to the Far East because of the fact that his institution's sales, like the sales of most all firms today, need stimulation. Mr. Mordey, as he expresses it, is here as a trade "stimulater."

"British manufacturers in many lines are today giving credit to the Americans who sold the Orient goods during the war," said Mr. Mordey. "British quality, the point upon which British sales in the Orient have depended so long, is no longer enough to put British sales over. We must add good advertising and greater consideration of customers to our first point of salesmanship.

"In the days before the war British paper makers, British leather wholesalers, machinery manufacturers, men who sent the big exports to the Orient, were able to send pictures of goods, perhaps a meager catalogue. It was a policy of 'You have bought this quality for years; it is here, you can take it or leave it.' And there was no competition. Today the retailer is shown the same catalogue, perhaps he is given a small piece of note paper as a sample of a stationery shipment. He asks, 'How many pieces of this in a box? How wide is the paper, what will be the exchange rate when I receive the shipment from England?' And you give the old answer that the dealer may take the order from a catalogue or get along without it, to which he says, 'Here is the American catalogue, in Japanese. here is a shipment of paper, in boxes as a sample, why should I return to the old small catalogue purchasing?'

NEW EXPORTERS BEGIN

"British exporters to the Orient were succeeded after 1914 by Americans, Swiss, and some Italian dealers. For four years these three classes, led by American exporters, supplied the Oriental field. The American exporters simply set a new lead in the Orient, and they pleased their customers.

"Why do we agree now to a change, to admitting that American ideas on this line were right? I will give you some trade figures as a sample of my reply. In 1919, when British exporters began to send out goods again, the world out here needed everybody's products, we had as good sales as there were in 1913. In 1920 our slump came and the sales dropped to 70 percent of what they had been in the Orient. At the end of 1920 they had dropped to 40 percent of what they had been; then came 1921 and a 25 percent purchase by the Orient. We began to realise at the first of this year that we must get busy, and my visit here is simply one of the results."

ROOM FOR ALL HERE

"As a result of what English firms are learning from American exporters," said Mr. Mordey, "I might refer to the fact that the John Freshwater Shoe Company of London and Northampton, a firm which seven years ago would have contented itself with a printed catalogue showing pictures of shoes, today, merely for the asking will send out a couple of dozen sample shoes, just so the importer at the other end may be satisfied."

"And in giving credit to American enterprise in this way I do not say that British houses are changing their quality of manufacture," said Mr. Mordey. "There is room for several nations to have their exporters at work on the Oriental field and I believe that this blending of ideas of the two nations, along with a good healthy competition between representatives of both, will be the best thing for our business houses."

Mr. Mordey is Far Eastern representative of Spalding and Hodge, Ltd., but this is his first trip to Japan, his headquarters being in Bombay. He has been in the Bombay, China and Straits territory for twenty years. Mrs. Mordey has accompanied him on his present trip.

Transactional Settlement Of The Banque Industrielle De Chine

In accordance with the provision of the Law of the 2nd. July 1919, re the Transactional Settlement, and in the strict interest of the creditors, the Judge-delegate of the Tribunal of Commerce of the Seine district for the Banque Industrielle de Chine has issued on the proposal of the Judicial Administrator an ordinance prescribing the proceedings to follow for the exhibition, affirmation and the verification of the claims against the said Bank in China.

The Consul for France holding office in places where the Banque Industrielle de Chine has branches shall address to each creditor a registered letter inviting him to remit to the Consular-Office a statement presenting in detail his claims fixed per 26th July 1921, certified true and genuine.

This statement must be accomplanied by documents justifying such claims as: statements of accounts, passbooks, drafts, cheques letters of credit, telegraphic remittances, orders of payment, deposit receipts of any kind, paying-in-receipts, credit advices, etc.

Creditors who do not possess these documents must submit in their stead statement of account with the Bank, certifying the true standing of their account on the 26th July 1921.

On receipt of all the documents above mentioned, deposited with him before the 15th. November 1921, the Consul shall return to creditors all deeds and values, after having countersigned all claim-statements signed by them. These claim statements will be remitted to the Tribunal of Commerce of the Seine-district at Paris.

For the exhibition and affirmation of their claims, creditors may appoint a proxy, holding a non-legalised power of attorney, a model of which will be sent to them by the Consul.

After receipt of and examination by the Judicial Administrator of all the Statements of the Head-Office and the different branches of the Banque Industrielle de Chine, the proceedings for the registration of claims are definitely ended and the Banque Industrielle de Chine, has to deposit with the Registrar's Office of the Tribunal of Commerce of the Seine-district its proposals for a Transactional Settlement, accompanied by the report of the Judicial Administrator on the proceedings taken.

These proposals of the Transactional Settlement will afterwards lead to proceedings similar to those adopted for the exhibition and affirmation of claims and creditors will be called upon to give their adhesion or to notify their refusal of acceptance of these proposals. After which these proposals will be submitted to the homologation of the Tribunal of Commerce of the Seine.

In order to hurry the Settlement, it is in the interest of creditors to reply urgently to the information required by the Consul for France. Moreover, as per the conditions of the Law of the 2nd. July 1919, creditors who have not replied within the delay stipulated are considered to accept as genuine and correct the statements of account of the Bank and are registered under this heading in the transactional settlement, but having no right of vote as to the final proposal.

On the other hand debtors of the Banque Industrielle de Chine have to settle their accounts likewise before the 15th November 1921, through the intermedium of the Manager of the Branch interested or through the Correspondent of the Judicial Administrator, or through the Chancellor of the French Consulate.

A. DU PAC DE MARSOULIES
Correspondent of the Judical Administrator.

Spot bar silver was down 1⅛d. and forward 1⅝d. in London yesterday.

The New York price declined to 70⅝ cents and the London-New York cross rate to 390½.

The official Sterling rate of the day was quoted at 3/11, the Gold Dollar rate at 76½, the Yen rate at 62.

The market was uncertain and erratic throughout the day, but fairly steady.

In the early trading business in Sterling was done at 4/- for October delivery and 3/11 for December, and in Gold Dollars at 78¼ for October and 76½ for December.

However, these rates were not obtainable at the close when Sterling was offered at 3/11¼ for October and 3/10⅜ for December.

A WOMAN'S TROUBLES

Interesting Case In Ceylon

The case of Mrs. E. M. Fernando, wife of Mr. W. H. Fernando, stationmaster at Nugegoda on the Ceylon Government Railways, is of especial interest to women. Here are the facts as related by this lady:—

"After the birth of my son Denzil eight years ago I fell into a very poor state of health. Headaches troubled me continually, other ailments peculiar to my sex assailed me. I had almost unbearable backaches, and became so depressed that my husband had difficulty in persuading me even to go out for a walk. We consulted doctors and they were of opinion that my troubles were due to bloodlessness.

"My husband finally obtained a supply of Dr. Williams' pink pills for me in the hope of alleviating my miserable condition, and within two weeks from commencing to take these pills I felt a decided improvement. My appetite began to revive and the pains in my back and loins lessened in severity. My headaches also became less frequent and I began to take a more lively interest in things about me. Soon a healthy colour returned to my cheeks and I joined my husband with pleasure in his evening walks. In time all my aches and pains left me, and I found myself fully restored to health."

Dr. Williams' pink pills are an ideal tonic for all nervous, weak-blooded people, men and women too. Today is the best time to begin them. Of any dealer; or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road Shanghai, price $1.50 per bottle, $8 for six bottles, post free.

Send a postcard for a book that will tell you how to take care of your blood. It is free for the asking.

The Russo-Jap Conference

THE conference at Dairen represented an attempt on the part of Japan to anticipate the inevitable accounting. It was evidently meant in good faith by the Russian delegation to effect the establishment of normal neighborly relations with Japan—the withdrawal, that is to say, of alien troops and the restoration of peace and commerce.

Such an outcome would have met the requirements of both sides. Russia sincerely desires peace. Japan needs must come to an understanding.

But, miscalculating the moderation of the Russian attitude as a sign of utter weakness, the Japanese negotiators seemingly placed no bounds on their demands, and as a final stroke of characteristic "cleverness" refused to consider the question of evacuation until their demands, in the form of a Trade Agreement, should be granted.

Holding a bayonet at the head of the party of the second part would not ordinarily be referred to as a Trade Agreement. Perhaps the evil examples of certain other imperialist nations have mistaught this very imitative people, and perhaps the proceedings at the Dairen Conference thus meet with unqualified approval of the ruling caste of Japan. In this case, a thorough course in the more enlightened relationships that should exist between nations is demanded.

The delegates of the Far Eastern Republic could not but entertain doubts as to whether the consideration of evacuation, the economic concessions having been granted, would ever preceed beyond the stage of discussion. The matter of evacuation would then be surrounded with obscure qualifications, and if finally consented to, it would be only at the price of what is known as "a diplomatic victory."

The proposals made by the Japanese delegation at Dairen should be published to the world. They would reveal the actual intent of Japan in Siberia, and the general trend of her foreign policy in its bare reality. Little, however, is needed on this point. The character of the Siberian occupation lies fully disclosed in any of the many aspects of the situation.

The population of Russia is suffering from famine. Millions are starving. It is urgently necessary to rehabilitate the life of the country. Of first importance is food, then transport.

But Japan holds the only port through which the commerce of Siberia would pass. Formerly a busy port, it has sunk into a slough of idleness, a center only of international intrigue. Previous to the setting up of the puppet Merkuloff "government" the Japanese Command imposed regulations upon railroad traffic that effectually prohibited the sending of goods into the interior, creating delays, maintaining a reserve of 800 freight cars in the city of Vladivostok and other devices. Now, of course, communication is cut off entirely.

More important than food, even, for starving Russia is transport. At Vladivostok the Japanese detain railway material valued at many millions of gold roubles, steel rails, ties and rolling stock. This material is needed as never before. The "government" of Merkuloff, however, in order simply to prolong its existence for a short space of time, offers these goods, which belong of right to the people of Russia as a whole, to the highest bidder, and it is all being exported.

This railway equipment in particular would help at the present moment in the ghastly famine situation. By the detention of this material, the Japanese—and the effects must be quite clearly understood by them—add to the sufferings of Russia.

At such a juncture Japan presses to gain her advantages. The diplomats approach, apparently friendly, but astute, shrewd, grasping, "clever." At a time when Europe is moved to pity by the catastrophe which has overtaken the Russian people, when the United States offers the organising genius of Hoover, and shiploads of food, when even the small countries—Norway with her Nansen, Sweden with a gift of 500,000 Crowns—respond, Japan sees only a new chance to extort and to bargain.

That the attempt proved a failure must be a source of satisfaction to all right thinking people. At Washington the matter will be raised again.

"Curb Japs Or Arms Parley Is A Farce"

(An article by Gustave Le Bon, celebrated French historian and sociologist, on the Disarmament Conference and Pacific Question. Translated from Les Annales, Paris, by Orrick Johns)

We know that the President of the United States has addressed an invitation to the great Powers to come together shortly in Washington in order to discuss the disarmament of peoples and the question of the Pacific.

The collected speeches made at this congress will surely fill many volumes.

It is easy, without being a prophet, to outline the contents of them in advance.

So far as concerns general disarmament, of which the fanciful Mr. Wilson dreamed, no one will insist upon that at all; the speech makers having little trouble to prove that to disarm certain peoples who, like France, like Belgium, etc., are menaced by their neighbors, would be out of the question.

It will be noted, moreover, that it is impossible to speak of disarmament in an epoch in which the simple airships of commerce, the number increasing every day, can be transformed instantly into redoubtable weapons, capable of quickly destroying an entire town and its inhabitants, merely by loading them with charges of explosives.

CUT IN NAVIES UNLIKELY

Discussion upon the various forms of disarmament being recognised as useless, the congress will speedily reach the question whether it is possible that the great maritime Powers can agree to cease the construction of huge battleships which, costing many millions each, can be destroyed in a few minutes.

It would seem that they might be usefully replaced by great aerial fleets. But as no one is yet convinced of the valuelessness of battleships, Japan as well as England will certainly declare that they can do no less than construct the minimum of ships necessary to their security. The congress will accordingly obtain on this point no other result than an exchange of fruitless conversation.

Among the remarks made at the congress one might imagine those of a penetrating observer—not necessarily a politician—upon our relations during two years with England. Here are the essential paragraphs of such a speech:

Outside of an illusory disarmament, and an even more illusory League of Nations, there exists only, the speaker will say, a single means of assuring durable peace—that is, the agreement undertaken by England and America to give aid to France if she is attacked by Germany. In the face of such opposition, Germany would never dream of starting another war.

The speaker will allege against this plan that England holds to it much more in order to establish her own hegemony in Europe than to establish peace.

FEARS MOSLEM UPRISING

The facts justifying this assertion are numerous. It will be especially recalled that at the moment when the Bolshevists were at the gates of Varsovia, Great Britain barred the only route to Danzig which allowed the easy sending of munitions to our allies, whose business it was to stop the Bolshevist invasion. The speaker will add also that after having seized all the German colonies—then Persia, Palestine and Egypt—England forced us, by the hostile acts of her proteges, placed by her upon our frontiers, to throw away many men and millions in Syria.

If this plan of intervention comes up again at Washington, it will be because England, threatened on every side, is anxious to make sure of some support. After having installed herself in Constantinople, with a view to dominating the Mediterranean, she loosed the Greeks against the Turks and revived the war in the East, a war all the more stupid since it may lead to a religious conflict.

The problem of the Pacific, in spite of all the roundabout words with which the speakers will treat it, consists in finding the means to prevent the Japanese from sending their immigrants to the United States. Never minging with other races, multiplying with extreme rapidity, and laboring to much better advantage than the whites, they would mean to the latter a disastrous competition.

Unhappily, emigration is a fatal necessity for the Japanese. They have each year an excess of many hundreds of thousands of inhabitants who, finding no more room on their native soil and not being able to take themselves to over-populated China, wish to invade the United States. But Draconian laws have up to this time rendered their access to her shores very difficult.

The Japanese have had to submit to these laws because they were not the strongest. By now?

Great Britain which has a treaty of alliance with Japan, and whom distance places beyond the reach of invasion, sees nothing disagreeable about the expansion of the yellow race.

It is quite otherwise with her dominions—Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, etc. They share absolutely the feelings of the United States and do not want a yellow invasion at any cost.

COLONIES OPPOSE JAPAN

Their representatives have already categorically expressed themselves on this point. "Among the rights of the country we represent," said the Prime Minister of Australia, "is that of choosing our nationals, and conversely, of eliminating the foreigners who do not suit us."

Will present day Japan accept the humiliating exclusion which up to this time she has had to undergo, although protesting against it? Force alone will make her.

But the weak Japan of old has become the great Power dealing equally with the strongest nations. She possesses a fleet almost as large as England's, which during the war policed the Pacific and rendered great service to the Allies. Her representative at Paris was one of the Supreme Council who dictated the peace.

The ancient little Japan is very great today. To say nothing of the conquest of China, she has annexed Shantung, a country as large as France; then Manchuria, and presently, without doubt, Siberia, Lake Baikal and Vladivostok, territories rich in mines, forests, coal and oil.

In a short time the Japanese have become the true masters of Asia.

It is now more than thirty years ago that, in a book devoted to the Orient, I predicted the fatal conflict of the white race and the yellow race in the East.

This hour has come. If the United States have the power to defend themselves against the Japanese invasion it is because in coming to the aid of the Allies they were forced to establish an army and a fleet. Thanks to these armaments and to the support of the English Dominions, America resists Japanese pressure.

To end the series of predictions, easy enough for all, set forth in the preceding lines, we may declare that the congress at Washington will succeed in slightly retarding the outbreak of the great struggle which threatens Asia.

This outbreak will be delayed, but delayed only. Before many years the Government of the United States will have to adjust itself to one of the two horns of the following dilemma:

Either to accept the invasion of the yellow peoples, who, because of their indefatigable fertility, will end by transforming the United States into Japanese settlements in constant struggle with the rest of the population.

Or to oppose the invasion by force.

Minerals In Foods

BY LORETTO C. LYNCH
(An Authority On All Matters Of Household Management)

"Of late, I have been interested in the statement made by some doctor that among the minerals needed by the human are magnesium, calcium, potassium, iron and phosphorous. I have always lived on very simple food and I have wondered if the foods I have been eating contained these minerals suggested as inducive to health."

The above quotation is part of a letter that came to me recently. There are a number of folks a bit hazy about minerals in the diet. And it seems, according to the physicians, that we need all these minerals in our diet in order to be at our best.

Of the foods containing 0.168 per cent or more of calcium we might mention, almonds, cauliflower, cheese, hard cheese, cottage cheese, dried beans, dried cowpeas, dried figs, egg yolk, cow's milk, olives, rye bran and watercress.

Potassium is found in certain foods that every woman planning a menu should consider. There is 1.0 percent or more potassium found in cocoa, dried beans, dried lima beans, dried figs, dried peas, dried prunes and raisins.

Phosphorus, 0.9 percent or more, is found in hard cheese, cocoa, chocolate, dried beans, dried peas, egg yolk, entire wheat, peanuts, wheat bran.

We hear much about the necessity for a general mixed diet. In order to get our share of the several minerals needed most by the body we should avoid the meat and potato and white bread rut. Try the diet that gives large variety for a while. You will feel lots better—almost like an extra vacation.

Immortal Heart His 'Find,' Says Scientist

Discovery That Cardiac Cells Are Immortal Wrongly Attributed to Drs. Lewis and Carrel, of Rockefeller Institute, Says Prof. Ludwig Schleich, of Berlin, Who Asserts He First Established That Amazing Fact

The discovery by Dr. Lewis and Dr. Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute, that the heart does not die is far from being new, according to Professor Dr. Ludwig Schleich. Schleich writes this letter to a Berlin newspaper which had published an article about Dr. Lewis:

"The fact, which will doubtless astonish your readers greatly, that the cells of the human and the animal heart are immortal was not first established in America. It was set forth first by me on the basis of the Weissman doctrine of the immortality of the monocells (bacteria), long before the publications of Carrel and Lewis. You will find it in my book, 'Concerning the Soul,' in my 'Consciousness and Immortality,' and most extensively treated in my 'The Problem of Death.'

"It is not merely under artificial culture, as in Lewis's experiments, that the innermost kernel of the cell, the chromosone, reproduces itself. It keeps on reproducing after death and fructifies until there are millions of other animate things in the earth.

Thus, through exchange of cells, a living, rythmic exchange of acquired capabilities becomes possible, which serves to aid the cosmic ascent of all life to the highest perfection of soul even after the death of the individual.

"The interesting discovery that growing old is a sort of disease is also not of American origin. A Bulgarian physician, Dr. Tranjen, who was educated in German universities, was the first to defend this view on the basis of the Ehrlich theory, and he even proposed an immunising vaccination against growing old."

Schleich—to give him his full title, Privy Sanitary Councillor Professor Dr. Schleich—is one of the most interesting figures in the German scientific world. He is the discoverer of local anaesthesia, a noted surgeon, equally noted bacteriologist, a poet of parts, author of many books on a dozen subjects, a more than average musician, with some songs to his credit as composer, a lecturer and a polished elocutionist. Well past three score years and ten, he is still robust and active. A part of his creed is that everybody gets too little sleep. He makes it a point to sleep ten hours every night, and expects to live and work many years yet.

Schleich's father was also a physician, whose reputation, although he lived in the small city of Rostock, was widespread.

Underseas 'Phone

From Paris comes the news that the telephone can be harnessed to submarine cables, by a device perfected by M. M. Gastor. Vincent and Louis Duverger, two eminent French engineers.

The French Government has sanctioned experiments with the invention over the submarine cable between Antibes, near Cannes, and Saint Florent, Corsica. While this cable is in a state of disrepair and has not been used lately for telegraphic purposes, the inventors claim it will prove their device practicable and assert the new principle can be applied to all existing submarine cables. In this event, telephony between Europe and America will become a certainty and international business will be greatly assisted.

Popular Writer Again Discusses The Curious Conception Of The Year As A Circle; The House Of One-third Thrown Open For Visitors

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
(Famous Astronomer and Writer of Scientific Subjects of Popular Interest)

When the house of the mind is thrown open we see something of one another's inner life. But there are certain rooms and closets almost always kept closed. On the rare occasions when a stranger is permitted to look into these the revelations are often of great psychological interest and throw light upon fundamental problems of human mentality.

Not long ago I commented upon the curious conception of the year at a circle entertained by one of my correspondents, who averred that everything he did was laid out in plan on this virtually visible and almost tangible circle. It would appear that this particular form of mental imagery may be not very uncommon, although it is seldom so definite and detailed as in the case above referred to and in another which has just come to my attention in the following letter from a very intelligent Chicagoan:

Your article on the circular conception of the year struck me very forcibly, as all my life I have seen the year as a circle. But my January 1, instead of being in the west, is located east of south, the 25th day of December being at the exact south. But the first 180 degrees of the circle on the east side contain all of the days from December 26 to July 3, inclusive. The exact east point of the circle is always indefinite, but the 4th of July is at the exact north. The exact west is also indefinite.

"The circle does not lie in a flat plane, but is inclined at an angle of about 15 degrees, the lowest point being December 25, and the highest point being July 4. Also the circle does not seem to be flat, but is as follows: Starting at December 25, the days until January 5 are level; then there is a gradual rise till February 10; then a steep rise to March 1; then a level till March 10; then a steep rise to April 1; from April 1 to June 15 a steady even up grade; then a sharp rise to July 4. From July 4 there is a drop to July 6, and then a long, steady decline to September 1. From September 1 to November 1 almost level, and from November 1 to December 25 steady decline.

"This may sound funny, but the past years act almost as queerly. I was born on December 25, 1870. From 1870 to 1880 is a sharp up grade; from 1880 to 1890 is a sharper grade; from 1890 to 1898 is a slow up grade; from 1898 to 1904 sharp grade; from 1904 to 1907 is a slight descent; from 1907 to 1914 is a medium up grade, but from 1914 to date is an up grade of almost 70 degrees. The last two years seem to overlap or lie one above the other.

"When speaking of the years as a circle I really mean a helical curve, so that the January 1 of each year is superposed above the preceding one, and there is no break at all. In this way I can look back over my entire life and see the places where certain events took place as clearly as referring to a given page in a book."

If there were not a considerable literature of this subject—mental imagery,—and if I had not myself some similar, though less vivid, impressions and pictures, especially of numbers and their sequence, I might be disposed, as many readers no doubt will be, to look upon the whole account as fantastic.

To be sure, that which is described is only a product of the mind or a mental conception, and not an object or series of objects really perceived by the senses. Nevertheless, there can be no doubt that some persons see such things with "the mind's eye" with a clearness hardly inferior to that with which they perceive real objects. It is a gift, and one, perhaps, that cannot be acquired by any effort of education. One who has it possesses many advantages over those who do not have it, though there may be disadvantages also.

I think it is at the basis of the ability of certain chess players to conduct a game, or even several games simultaneously, without seeing the board. They do see the board clearly and steadily on the screen of the brain.

A careful analysis, grounded upon an intimate acquaintance with the life history of the subject, would probably reveal the sources of the physical and mental impressions upon which the recurrent imagery is based. The general rise from December 25 to July 4 corresponds roughly with the progress of the seasons from the depth of Winter to the height of Summer, the ideas of depth and height as thus applied being, I believe, almost universally entertained and possibly having some connection with the alternate rise and decline of the sun in the sky as the year rolls round. The general conception of the year as a circle is also practically universal and of obvious our origin.

The most singular thing is the helical form of the curve in which the years are seen. This may be supposed to have been suggested by the corresponding form of the earth's path through space as it circles around the sun at the same time accompanying the sun in its flight in the direction nearly indicated by the star Vega.

Sungei Duri Estate Meeting

The annual general meeting of the Sungei Duri Rubber Estate, Limited, was held Tuesday afternoon at the offices of the secretaries and general managers, Messrs. A. R. Burkill and Sons, 2 Kiukiang Road.

The following is the text of the chairman's speech:

"Gentlemen: The report and accounts having been in your hands for some days, I will with your permission take them as read.

"Since the last report, the area under cultivation on Selama has been increased by the 68 acres felled last year bringing the planted area up to 920 acres of which 501 acres are producing and 419 acres non-producing.

"During the period under review a further 87¾ acres were felled and burned but of this area only approximately 24 acres are suitable for planting, the remainder being swamp land which was felled in order to exterminate the large droves of monkeys which were doing damage in the young areas.

"The cost of production on both Estates was slightly higher than the previous year principally due to the reduced output brought about by the restriction scheme which was supported by the Company. The total output for the year was 266,112 lbs against an estimate which was revised from 364,000 lbs. to 273,000 lbs. The "all-in" cost of production of both Estates was 11.61d. per lb. which compares very favorably with the results attained on other estates in the country.

"With regard to the question of bark renewal, you were informed last year that a special visit was being made to report on the conditions. Mr. Ferguson visited the Estate and on his recommendations the tapping was gradually transferred to the alternate day system. In this connection Mr. Ferguson states:—

"There will of course be a temporary loss in crop to begin with, and it will take time before the trees become accustomed to the revised system of milking, but when this is accomplished I can forsee still lower collection costs, and considerable further immunity from diseases, which is a feature of the system not to be disregarded, if the future welfare of the trees is to be fully safeguarded."

"Pests and diseases have given a considerable amount of trouble on Selama, but the work was kept well in hand. There was a great quantity of surface timber on the Estate and the work of clearing and removing this is proceeding gradually as finances permit.

"The position as regards labor may be considered satisfactory and the general health of the force has been good.

"The accounts call for little comment. We have passed through a most difficult year and taking into consideration the low prices prevailing, the result of the year's working is not unsatisfactory. The accounts show a loss for the year of Tls.4,007.82 which deducted from the balance brought forward from last year leaves a balance of Tls. 39,185.05 standing to credit of profit and loss account which the Directors recommend carrying forward to next year's accounts.

"We still have a little cash left, but unless an improvement in the price of rubber takes place shortly, it will only be a matter of time before our funds become exhausted.

"Instructions have been given to both managers to effect every possible economy and endeavor to bring the Estates to a self supporting basis and I feel sure they will realise the necessity for making every effort towards this end.

"If any shareholders have any questions to ask, I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability."

The following resolutions were passed.

RESOLUTIONS

"That the report and accounts for the year ended 30th June, 1921 together with the recommendation as to the appropriation of the balance at credit of profit and loss account be accepted."

"That Mr. F. J. Burrett be re-elected a Director of the Company."

"That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected Auditors to the Company at an annual remuneration of £300 for Shanghai and Penang."

Stubborn Case of Boils & Pimples
"Can honestly say I am quite cured"

Our portrait is of Mr. W. BRIDAL, 27, Strand Street, Ynytown, Mountain Ash, South Wales, Great Britain, who writes:
"It gives me great pleasure in telling you about the remarkable cure I found in Clarke's Blood Mixture for boils and pimples. After having suffered from time to time from both, and trying all kinds of so-called remedies, and being under doctor's treatment, I thought of Clarke's Blood Mixture, having tried it years ago with success for a similar complaint. After taking one bottle it seemed to drive them out, and after the second bottle I found a decided improvement, and continuing with your Mixture I can honestly say I am quite cured."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. Pleasant to take and free from anything injurious.
